

HEN Membership

Home Education Network (HEN) is a not for profit organisation that supports home educating families. We encourage and support families by organising group activities such as Science at Monash and social opportunities such as home ed camps and local support groups.

HEN maintains a website, runs a phone support service for members and the wider home education community and researches and publishes Otherways Magazine. Otherways contains the latest news, research, workshops and events, networking and support information, letters from families and articles on every aspect of home education from Australia and around the world.

HEN and our events and camps are based in Victoria but we welcome members from other states and are happy to advertise your events.

We invite you to be part of our increasingly dynamic home education community.
